

Tina O'Hagan Associates Ltd.

Tina O'Hagan, Director of Tina O'Hagan Associates
Limited,

based in Magherafelt is the first woman in Ireland to receive the Platinum Certificate of Accreditation to become a Certified Food Service Professional.

CFSP is a new industry specific professional qualification for the UK and Europe Food Service industry. It is being introduced under the auspices of CESA (Catering Equipment Suppliers Association) which is already an established & highly regarded body within the industry.

Only five professionals in the UK, Europe and Ireland have achieved Platinum level, Tina is one of the top five. Tina has been in the catering equipment industry for 25 years and has worked in London, Dublin, and N. Ireland. She started her own company in 2008.

CESA congratulates Tina on her success which is a result of studying an in depth, 470 page guide to the industry and successfully passing a stringent 2.5 hour examination as well as an evaluation of experience.

“Professionalism is the key to the successful operation of any foodservice business and we expect that CFSP will be used as a key criteria to evaluate the knowledge and experience across the whole of the industry” says CESA.
